Hadhrat Luqman was the slave of a rich man. The good character of Hadhrat Luqman had such an effect on his master that his master used to treat him like a very close friend. It was the habit of the master that whenever he had anything special to eat, he would let Hadhrat Luqman eat first and he would eat the leftovers. Hadhrat Luqman took into consideration the love of his master and would eat a little and then send the major portion to his master. One day, during the melon season, the master received a melon from somewhere. At that time Hadhrat Luqman was not there. The master sent someone to call him. When Hadhrat Luqman came, the master cut the melon into slices and started feeding it to him, slice after slice. Hadhrat Luqman ate the slices as though he was really enjoying it and all the time expressed thanks to his master. When there was one slice left, the master said, "Let me eat this slice and see how sweet this melon is." Saying this, he put a piece of melon into his mouth. The melon was so bitter that it caused him to fall unconscious.

When he regained consciousness, he asked Hadhrat Luqman ,
"How could you eat all those slices with such relish and enjoyment when one piece of it made me fall unconscious?"

Hadhrat Luqman replied, "O Master! I have received hundreds of gifts from you. It would be extremely ungrateful of me to complain of this after enjoying hundreds of favors from you."
